Project Terms

Project Terms:

The estimated timeline for completion of the project is provided as a good faith estimate, but is subject to change based on the complexity of the work and the availability of resources. The client will be notified of any significant changes to the timeline.

The client is responsible for providing all necessary content, materials, and information required for the project in a timely manner. Delay in the receipt of necessary materials may result in delays in the project timeline.

The client is responsible for reviewing and approving all deliverables in a timely manner. Delay in review and approval may result in delays in the project timeline.

The client is responsible for providing final approval of the project before it is considered complete. Once the project is approved and finalized, no further changes can be made without additional fees.

Any issues or defects discovered after final approval will be addressed as a separate project, with additional fees as applicable.

The client retains ownership of all materials provided for the project, but grants the company the right to use the completed work for promotional purposes.

The company retains the right to terminate the project at any time, with a pro-rata refund of any payments made.

Additional Terms and Conditions:

In accepting this proposal, the customer agrees to the terms and conditions contained herein, including any attachments or riders with additional terms and conditions.

The terms and conditions of this agreement shall prevail over any variation in terms and conditions on any purchase order or other document issued by the customer.

Any changes to the system requested by the customer after the execution of this agreement shall be paid for by the customer and must be authorized in writing.

This proposal will be void if not accepted in writing within thirty (30) days from the date of the proposal.
