This item was considered after agenda item eight.

Assistant City Attorney Zach Davis-Walker asked, as there were only three elected officials present, if Commissioner Dunn would be open to tabling the subject item to a Commission meeting at which more elected Commissioners were present.

Commissioner Dunn found this acceptable.

Mayor Thurston believed the regulations required a four fifth's vote on the subject item.

Deputy City Manager/Finance Director Kennie Hobbs stated the presence of the full Commission was needed to pass the subject item on second reading to allow for input from all elected officials.

A motion was made by Commissioner M. Dunn, seconded by Vice Mayor L. Martin, that this Ordinance be tabled to the City Commission Meeting, due back on 4/8/2024. The motion carried by the following vote:

Yes: 3 - Commissioner M. Dunn, Vice Mayor L. Martin, and Mayor K. Thurston

Absent: 2 - Commissioner D. Grant, and Commissioner S. Martin

Youth Council List

This item was considered before agenda item four.

Vice Mayor L. Martin noted the City was involved in numerous activities, and the help of the members of the Lauderhill Youth Council was greatly needed to help City administration and elected officials bridge the gap of getting the City's youth involved.

Karma Gibson stated she attended Rhema World Christian Academy as a freshman, and she wished to serve on the subject board to learn more about civic responsibilities, and how to function in a leadership role.

Commissioner Dunn thanked Ms. Gibson for answering the call to leadership and service. Part of serving on the Youth Council meant paying attention to community issues, and for the young members to determine how they could be a part of the solution. She said the expectation of serving on the Youth Council was for members to attend meetings, and do the work; she could tell Ms. Gibson was willing to do that.

Mayor Thurston thanked Ms. Gibson for volunteering to serve.

Ms. Gibson thanked the Commission for giving her the opportunity to serve Lauderhill.

A motion was made by Vice Mayor L. Martin, seconded by Commissioner M. Dunn, that this Resolution be approved. The motion carried by the following vote:

Yes: 3 - Commissioner M. Dunn, Vice Mayor L. Martin, and Mayor K. Thurston

Absent: 2 - Commissioner D. Grant, and Commissioner S. Martin

Assistant City Attorney Davis-Walker mentioned Commissioner S. Martin had to leave the meeting suddenly to deal with a family matter, but he asked that the Commission bring the item to the floor, so other members of the Commission could indicate their position on the item. Commissioner S. Martin wished the City to incorporate in its events calendar an event for Ramadan; no time or date was set, but he anticipated a two-hour event on a date between April 10 and 14, 2024, location to be determined.

Vice Mayor L. Martin questioned the City's existing procedure for holding new events.

City Manager Giles-Smith replied it was 30 days prior to the intended date of the event.

Vice Mayor L. Martin noted he willingly supported events that celebrated the holidays of every religion and background, but it could become frustrating on the City's end trying to coordinate events at short notice with those already on the calendar.

Mayor Thurston said he could not support passing the item, as the request was not being made within the proper timeframe.

Commissioner Dunn remarked, despite the short notice being well outside the 30-day required timeframe, the City did not, necessarily, do much for the Muslim community, so for that reason she would be open to considering approving an event. She thought the City's policy also required before an event item was placed on the agenda, there needed to be a set date and time for the event.

City Manager Giles-Smith affirmed, normally, a date and time for a requested event must be provided before placing it on a Commission agenda for consideration.

Vice Mayor L. Martin observed the Commission's present denial of the subject resolution did not prevent Commissioner S. Martin from holding an event in honor of Ramadan; it was the City's involvement portion that was at issue due to the short notice. He asked if any information was supplied with regard to the involvement of police, fire, and other City staff.

City Manager Giles-Smith indicated she was not aware of those specifics.

Mayor Thurston received no vote to amend the City's events calendar to include an event to celebrate Ramadan between April 10 to 14, 2024; he said the lack of a motion meant Commissioner S. Martin's request to add a Ramadan event, due to the reasons discussed above, failed. He went on to request a motion on agenda item nine as presented, after which he opened the discussion to the public and received no input.

A motion was made by Commissioner M. Dunn, seconded by Vice Mayor L. Martin, that this Resolution be approved. The motion carried by the following vote:

Yes: 3 - Commissioner M. Dunn, Vice Mayor L. Martin, and Mayor K. Thurston

VOCA Agreement

Commissioner Dunn noted the City of Lauderhill was taking a strategic approach to crime prevention; the only way for this to be done was with funding support from city partners. She asked Police Chief Constance Stanley to state what the subject grant would allow the City to do, and how it would help the Lauderhill Police Department (PD) continue to reduce crime, and support victims of crime.

Police Chief Constance Stanley indicated Major Hennessy would provide the details, as he oversaw the PD's grant activities.

Major David Hennessy explained the subject grant was an ongoing grant the PD received from the Attorney General's Office (AGO) in Tallahassee. A portion of the grant funded the hiring of civilian employees through victims' services, and victims' advocates; the PD reached out to the victim of every violent crime, specifically domestic violence, and the majority of victims of property crimes. They were offered victims' services, both through the PD, and the State Attorney's Office. He stated the majority of the subject grant funding was used for victim advocates' salary, though a small portion of the funding was used for supplies, equipment, etc.; it was an ongoing grant the City received over the last several years, and the PD anticipated continuing to receive the grant in the years to come.

Commissioner Dunn wished to know what a victim's advocate did, and how did it support the City's commitment to violence prevention.

Major Hennessy responded the funding allowed the PD to take a holistic approach to addressing the victims of crime; it was not just about arresting perpetrators, though this was a priority of law enforcement, but the PD wished to do all it could to make the victims whole, and support them through the prosecution process if, for example, they needed to testify, and/or go to court. The civilian employees were specially trained to make that contact with victims to offer more services through other partnerships through the City and Broward County.

Commissioner Dunn sought confirmation that, along with help with preparing to testify, the specially trained civilian employees offered trauma response care, counseling, help with filing a restraining order, accessing resources, such as housing, transportation, etc.; thus, they provided support to families in need of help to navigate a very challenging circumstance.

Major Hennessy answered absolutely; a lot of what the subject civilian employees did was work with such organizations as Women in Distress, help them find temporary, and, then later, permanent housing for women trying to get away from domestic violence. They helped with accessing funding for victim assistance from the State, should they, for example, need to relocate.

Commissioner Dunn commented the subject item really demonstrated that in the City of Lauderhill, the City was not only committed to strict policing, but that the PD took an approach of wraparound support for families who were victims of crime. She thought the Lauderhill PD did a very good job of finding outside resources, as the City lacked the budget to fund all the needed initiatives to help victims. She commended Chief Stanley and her staff for their efforts.

A motion was made by Vice Mayor L. Martin, seconded by Commissioner M. Dunn, that this Resolution be approved. The motion carried by the following vote:

Yes: 3 - Commissioner M. Dunn, Vice Mayor L. Martin, and Mayor K. Thurston

Commissioner Dunn recommended that future appointees to the Lauderhill Youth Council, and the Lauderhill Young Professional Advisory Board attend the meeting at which their appointment would be approved.

Deputy City Clerk Nadia Chin indicated city staff did notify the potential appointees, but it was their decision whether or not to attend the Commission meeting.

Commissioner Dunn remarked if they failed to show up for the meeting, then she would not vote for them, as part of their training was in leadership and ethics, preparing them to serve in future leadership roles.

Vice Mayor L. Martin pointed out in some cases the names were being read into the record, and, had there been no added appointee, the item would have been approved on the Consent Agenda.

Mayor Thurston understood Commissioner Dunn's position, but he thought it unfair to ask a young person to attend a Commission meeting at 6:00 p.m., but the item specific to them was not considered until 9:00 p.m. Thus, the rules of operation needed to be tighter, whereby, if an item was specifically related to young persons, it should be dealt with earlier in the agenda. He said this was a matter that could be put to a workshop, and it should not affect the subject item being voted on.

Vice Mayor L. Martin concurred, adding the Commission previously approved the appointment of advisory board members despite them being absent at the time of their appointment, and giving appointees present in the Chambers a chance to speak if they wished, but, across the board, most appointees did not attend. If the City wished to take a position that future advisory board appointees had to attend the Commission meeting at which their appointment was being approved, it should be a practice implemented across the board, with proper noticing to appointees. He doubted Ashley Roache was told she had to attend the present Commission meeting.

Commissioner Dunn agreed the wisest course of action was to workshop the matter.

A motion was made by Vice Mayor L. Martin, seconded by Mayor K. Thurston, that this Resolution be approved. The motion carried by the following vote:

Yes: 3 - Commissioner M. Dunn, Vice Mayor L. Martin, and Mayor K. Thurston

Absent: 2 - Commissioner D. Grant, and Commissioner S. Martin

Abstain: 0

Commissioner Dunn requested the matter be added to the next workshop agenda, specifically with regard to the Lauderhill Youth Council, and the Lauderhill Young Professional Advisory Board, both of whom were being trained in leadership skills, proper professional etiquette when serving on a board, etc.

Assistant City Attorney Davis-Walker thanked the Commission for their patience.

Vice Mayor L. Martin provided the following update:

- The past week, proceeds from the 2023 City's Pink Up event to support breast cancer awareness were distributed at an event to 17 of the 19 recipients, made up of 16 women and one man; $863.00 was given to each recipient
- The Lauderhill Live Comedy Show held at the Lauderhill Performing Arts Center (LPAC) was a great success; entertainment included J. Anthony Brown, Coco Brown, and B-Phlat; CRA staff was commended for another enjoyable event
- ROSA Florida Chapter Barbeque, a Jamaican high school organization that held a cookout at St. George Park; it was $20.00 for all you can eat jerk chicken, jerk pork, etc.
- Purim, an Israeli celebration, was held the past weekend at both synagogues in Lauderhill, he attended both events, noting a good time was had by all attendees; the Rabbi urged the City Commission and staff to continue doing a great job

- The Colony assisted living facility (ALF) on NW 55th Avenue held a carnival day; it was good to see the seniors enjoying themselves; he enjoyed letting them know the City was a part of what was being done for them.

Commissioner Dunn provided the following update:

- She served on the executive committee for the Solid Waste Authority on which she represented the City of Lauderhill; two meetings ago they selected an executive director, and that contract was currently in negotiations; at the last meeting, they selected a company to work on the master plan for solid waste disposal in the County, that was currently in negotiations; they were determining the solid waste disposal strategy for the entire county for the next 40 years
- The coming Thursday, at 9:00 a.m. at the Sadkin Center there would be a Breaking Bread event; Breaking Bread was an initiative to engage and protect seniors as part of the Lauderhill Health & Prosperity Partnership (LHPP) initiatives of the community context sub-council. The event attendees would include Lauderhill seniors, youths, the Lauderhill Fire Department staff, etc.; they would discuss ways in which seniors could protect themselves; everyone was encouraged to attend; food would be provided
- The past Thursday the Lauderhill Youth Excel Summit was held at Lauderhill 6-12; Parks & Recreation Director Scott Newton and his team did an amazing job at that event.

City Manager Giles-Smith wished to highlight a city employee who wished to honor Women's History Month; specifically, new park manager, Courtney Washington, stationed at West Wind Park. She showed the Commission the display Ms. Washington created that included various Lauderhill community leaders, such as Police Chief Stanley, Eula Murray-Hylton, Commissioners Dunn and Grant, etc. She thought it was a really nice, innovative, creative display, and she commended all the women employed in every city department who worked to ensure the City functioned well; it was admirable for the City to have such high-quality women doing an outstanding job.

Mayor Thurston mentioned there were many great activities happening in Lauderhill, and they could all be found on the City's website, so everyone should check the website on a regular basis. Among the many upcoming events were the excellent shows being held at the LPAC.

Vice Mayor L. Martin mentioned Mr. Wilkerson reminded him of the upcoming Easter Egg Hunt at St. George Park on Saturday, March 30, 2024, at 11:00 a.m.

Mayor Thurston noted his Move with the Mayor program was held a various city parks.
