MANAGEMENT SUMMARY

Firm Understanding

Community Development & Benefits, LLC (CDB, LLC) fully understands that the City of Lauderhill seeks a qualified consultant to provide data-driven community outreach analysis and communications support for the City's ongoing General Obligation (GO) Bond Initiative. The purpose of this engagement is to ensure that residents, businesses, and community stakeholders remain informed, engaged, and confident in the City's bond program and related capital projects.

CDB, LLC recognizes that the Community Outreach Data Analyst serves as both an interpreter of data and a translator of community voice—bridging information gathered through surveys, meetings, and digital engagement into actionable insights that improve transparency and strengthen trust between the City and its residents.

We understand that the City's desired outcomes include:

- Establishing a structured outreach and analytics framework to track resident engagement and feedback;
- Producing clear, accessible materials that communicate the purpose and impacts of GO Bond projects;
- Using data and community sentiment to inform future messaging and policy decisions; and
- Demonstrating accountability through regular reporting and measurable benchmarks for engagement.

We further understand that the Community Outreach Data Analyst serves as the bridge between data and dialogue—responsible for ensuring that every outreach effort is informed by measurable insight and that every communication reflects accurate, accessible information. Our proposed approach will:

- Analyze resident sentiment and participation trends to shape messaging and outreach strategies.
- Develop multilingual and multicultural educational materials and data visualizations that make GO Bond information clear and approachable for all residents.
- Leverage proven outreach tools (surveys, focus groups, dashboards, and GIS-based mapping) to ensure data-driven engagement.
- Track and report engagement outcomes regularly, supporting transparency and public accountability throughout the GO Bond lifecycle.

This blend of technical analytics and human-centered engagement will help the City of Lauderhill build community confidence, maintain momentum, and ensure the long-term success of its GO Bond program.

Scope & Nature of Services

CDB, LLC's proposed scope of services aligns directly with the RLI's objectives and includes five key functional areas:

- Data Collection & Analysis – Gathering and interpreting demographic, sentiment, and participation data from residents, businesses, and partner agencies. Using analytics tools to identify engagement trends and provide evidence-based recommendations for outreach strategies.
- Public Information & Educational Materials – Developing multilingual, ADA-compliant materials—brochures, FAQs, infographics, and dashboards—that explain project status, benefits, and community impacts in clear and engaging terms.

- Community Outreach & Facilitation – Planning and conducting public meetings, focus groups, and pop-up events throughout Lauderhill’s neighborhoods. Ensuring diverse representation and culturally responsive participation from youth, seniors, business owners, and faith communities.
- Digital & Media Engagement – Managing content for the City’s website and social media platforms, ensuring that updates are timely, accurate, and consistent across channels. Monitoring digital analytics to measure reach, engagement, and audience sentiment.
- Performance Reporting & Continuous Improvement – Compiling quarterly and annual reports that summarize engagement metrics, community feedback, and media reach. Delivering actionable recommendations for enhancing outreach effectiveness throughout the GO Bond lifecycle.

Anticipated Project Approach

CDB, LLC proposes a collaborative, phased approach designed to deliver measurable and sustainable outcomes for the City:

Phase 1 – Discovery & Planning

- Meet with City leadership and departments to confirm goals, timelines, and performance indicators.
- Review existing communications and outreach data.
- Develop a “master” Engagement Plan identifying target audiences, data tools, and reporting cadence.

Phase 2 – Framework & Material Development

- Design an Outreach Data protocol for integrating survey platforms, social analytics, and event tracking.
- Produce standardized templates for communication—newsletters, project sheets, social media graphics—translated into English, Spanish, and Haitian Creole.
- Align messaging with City branding and GO Bond identity.

Phase 3 – Implementation & Community Engagement

- Conduct structured engagement through town halls, advisory sessions, and online surveys.
- Collect quantitative and qualitative data measuring participation, awareness, and sentiment.
- Partner with neighborhood associations, homeowner groups, and faith institutions to extend outreach beyond traditional channels.

Phase 4 – Data Analysis & Reporting

- Convert engagement data into usable dashboards and visual summaries for staff and Commission review.
- Provide quarterly performance reports and a comprehensive annual summary suitable for public release.
- Recommend course adjustments based on resident feedback and participation metrics.

Phase 5 – Knowledge Transfer & Capacity Building

- Train City staff on data tracking, dashboard maintenance, and effective public-information practices.
- Deliver a replicable engagement model the City can sustain beyond the initial contract period.

Throughout all phases, CDB, LLC will coordinate closely with the City’s Communications Department, Project Management staff, and any other designated consultants to ensure message consistency and efficient resource utilization.

Ability to Comply with Requirements

CDB, LLC affirms full compliance with all requirements of the RLI 2026-005, including insurance, licensing, and reporting standards. The firm maintains general liability, automobile, and professional liability coverage meeting or exceeding City thresholds.
