Forvis Mazars Forensic Accounting Services

Forensic Accounting, Investigative, & Corporate Compliance Services

We regularly conduct investigations on behalf of boards, management teams, and in-house counsel in connection with allegations of fraud, whistleblower reports, government investigation, or in connection with a bankruptcy. Our engagement teams include forensic accountants and technologists assisted by Forvis Mazars' national office, accounting, industry, and SEC reporting professionals, as needed.

We offer a full suite of forensic technology capabilities to support our investigations, including digital forensics, electronic document review and hosting, and data analytics. We can collect electronically stored information (ESI) from essentially any device, including phones, tablets, laptops, and servers; process and analyze the data; and host it for review by third parties.

Wrap Up

Project Summary

Our forensic audit for the City of Lauderhill would provide....

- An assessment of policies and procedures for adherence to applicable regulatory compliance.
- An assessment of a sample of documentation to assess grant funded expenditures for documented adherence with cost principles.
- Inspect compliance with grant-specific terms and conditions, including matching requirements and performance reporting.
- Objective findings based on the work performed.
- A forensic report including an executive summary, background information, methodology, detailed procedures, and recommendations.
