City Planner Molly Howson presented an application for Classic Billiards, located at 4561 North University Drive in Sun Village Plaza. The business, operating as a pool hall since the early 2000s, was purchased by David Bartosiak's group in 2023. They previously obtained special exception use approval and now requested expansion into an adjacent bay, nearly doubling their size. The applicant aimed to elevate the facility to compete nationally and internationally in pool competitions.

Commissioner Martin commented positively about visiting the establishment, noting new tables, improved ventilation system, and overall improvements. Commissioner Hodgson also endorsed the business.

A motion was made by Commissioner M. Dunn, seconded by Commissioner J. Hodgson, that this Resolution be approved. The motion carried by the following vote:

Ms. Howson presented a site plan application for Boye's Gas Inc. on behalf of Sharp Energy Inc., proposing to develop a vacant 0.91-acre parcel at 3550 Northwest 16th Street for outdoor storage and distribution of propane. The business currently operates adjacent to the city's water treatment plant on Northwest 49th Avenue and sought relocation to this industrial area.

Vice Mayor Campbell expressed support but raised concerns about a charter school located south of the proposed site. Ms. Howson confirmed the school's existence as a nonconforming use in the light industrial zone and explained staff's recommendation was based on the site being appropriate for industrial use according to city and county comprehensive plans.

Commissioner Dunn inquired about truck routes and community impact. Attorney Michael Wilde, representing the applicant, confirmed trucks would operate 7 AM to 5 PM via 38th Avenue and 16th Street, avoiding residential areas. He emphasized their search for a suitable Lauderhill location had taken months or years, and this industrial site represented a less intense use compared to typical industrial operations.

When asked about timeline, Mr. Wilde anticipated obtaining construction permits within a couple months and relocating within 4-6 months. He highlighted benefits including local propane storage for emergency backup power and serving residential, business, and government customers.

Public comment included Willie Mae Cooper from West Ken Lark Homeowners Association, who confirmed they had canvassed the area and met with the applicant. She expressed no concerns, understanding the industrial zoning and receiving assurances about no 18-wheeler storage.

Dolly Gibson, living one block from the site at the first row of homes on 36th Terrace, raised concerns about fumes and the community being "dumped on." She referenced losing family members to a lawsuit involving Fort Lauderdale's old incinerator and requested a protective wall for the community, similar to those on I-95 and the Turnpike. She stated she would only support the project if a wall was installed.

City Manager Hobbs responded that while this was the first he'd heard about a wall request, it could be considered as part of future GO bond expenditures. Previous GO bonds had funded walls along 19th Street. He noted it would require approvals and waivers from property owners along the stretch but could be included in the proposed GO bond if it passes in March.

A motion was made by Commissioner S. Martin, seconded by Commissioner J. Hodgson, that this Resolution be approved. The motion carried by the following vote:

Yes: 5 - Vice Mayor R. Campbell, Commissioner M. Dunn, Commissioner J. Hodgson, Commissioner S. Martin, and Mayor D. Grant

City Manager Hobbs explained this consultant agreement would allow engineering and utilities departments to work with consultants to analyze and recommend improvements for PFAS (per- and polyfluoroalkyl substances) compliance required by the federal government. This represented the first step in reviewing the water plant for needed improvements.

Commissioner Dunn asked about tangible gains from the study and whether it would move the city closer to removing PFAS from water. City Manager Hobbs confirmed it would eventually, explaining the study would assess water plant processes and equipment, providing recommendations for upgrades and identifying funding needs.

When asked about water sampling being excluded from scope, Utilities Director Herb Johnson confirmed city staff currently conducts EPA-required PFAS testing. The assessment would determine mitigation mechanisms needed based on contamination levels found.

GO Bond Projects 11-26

City Manager Hobbs presented the request to place three GO bond questions totaling $65 million on the March 2026 election ballot, covering public safety ($9.5 million), transportation and roadways ($21.5 million), and parks and recreation ($34 million).

Commissioner Dunn expressed concerns about potential property tax elimination in Tallahassee. City Manager Hobbs explained the subject item represents normal municipal capital project funding practice, citing examples in other cities: Homestead ($76 million), Miami ($200 million), Miami Beach ($439 million), and Boca Raton (nearly $100 million). He emphasized bonds allow residents to pay for improvements over their useful life rather than saving up and potentially moving before enjoying benefits.

Deputy City Manager/Finance Director Sean Henderson addressed concerns about revenue loss if Tallahassee eliminates property taxes, explaining general obligation bonds are billed as non-ad valorem revenue, separate from general fund revenues. He noted the city maintains strong coverage ratios and flexibility for future financing needs.

Commissioner Martin asked about the ballot structure, learning voters could approve or reject each category independently. The allocation percentages would appear on the ballot. He confirmed tabling would negatively impact the project since resolution must reach the county by January 10th, with only the January 5th meeting remaining.

Vice Mayor Campbell strongly advocated for the bond, warning about severe revenue reductions regardless of Tallahassee's formula. He emphasized that with 80% of city revenue going to salaries, any cuts would dramatically impact staffing and services. He urged educating the community about the importance of securing extra revenue for essential projects.

Commissioner Dunn wished everyone happy holidays.

Commissioner Martin wished happy holidays.

Vice Mayor Campbell shared his experience at the 2026 World Cup draw watch party, noting Haiti's placement in a tough group while Jamaica has an easier path. He also discussed the Tallahassee trip with City Manager Hobbs, meeting with two senators, the speaker of the house, and seven representatives. The speaker warned of major cutbacks with little funds available, suggesting members would get "a little something" with some getting more than others. Popular items included the police youth empowerment program and seawall improvement project. He encouraged colleagues and the public to reach out to representatives since Lauderhill received little last year and should be prioritized this year.

City Manager Hobbs presented a video of the successful 38th Avenue Beer-B-Q Festival, which attracted over 10,000 participants. Demographics showed increased diversity (65% Black/African American versus 70% previously), higher median household income ($60,000), and younger attendees (ages 40-50). Vendor feedback indicated over 1,600 customers served with approximately $16,000 in revenue for less than half the vendors surveyed. Most vendors reported selling out. He emphasized the event's economic development purpose, noting the first brewery on 38th Avenue came from Beer-B-Q Festival participation.

He also reported on the Tallahassee trip's success, meeting with legislators about appropriations and Safe Neighborhood District amendments. He wished everyone happy holidays.

Mayor Grant thanked everyone, wishing happy holidays.
