XIV UNFINISHED BUSINESS

XV OLD BUSINESS

XVI NEW BUSINESS

XVII COMMUNICATIONS FROM PUBLIC OFFICIALS SHALL BEGIN IMMEDIATELY BEFORE ADJOURNMENT

City Attorney Rosenberg stated the Florida Legislation session just ended, so she would follow up to determine which of the items the City submitted to Governor DeSantis for his signature were actually signed, and report her findings to the Commission accordingly. The Form 61 was sent for signature; if the Governor signs it, the City's elected officials had to file a Form 6 in 2024, which was a more in depth financial disclosure.

Commissioner L. Martin mentioned the Cinco de Mayo event at Lauderhill Pointe plaza; a good time was had by all, at which numerous vendors were present. He was very excited about the events and businesses slated to come to the subject area, as he really saw it becoming a staple in the Lauderhill community. The West Ken Lark Park grand opening celebration took place and was a hit; he was pleased to see the steps the City was taking to expose its citizens to many opportunities, commending Ms. Cooper for doing a good job. He noted the Jazzin' in West Ken Lark event took place right after, featuring wonderful entertainment, and the people from the community had a good time. The Lauderhill Professional Advisory Board was doing another headshot day the coming Saturday, where, for $25.00, anyone could take professional headshots; the previous event was a huge success, and it was a fundraiser. He was very proud of the City's youth, and their efforts to stay connected with their Lauderhill community, putting their best foot forward.

Commissioner Dunn stated the Lauderhill Shines had a graduation of six businesses from cohort six, bringing the number of graduated businesses close to 80; they were now working on an annual report, and revamping the videos. They were compiling the waitlist for cohort seven that would start in the fall. She mentioned Code Ninja, a coding camp for children that opened up in Oakland Park, hired six Lauderhill young people, some of whom were a part of the Lauderhill Youth Empowerment series, Hibiscus Girls, and La Rousse, mentioning she toured the Code Ninja site, where the City's six children would learn how to code over the coming weekend. Reminding the Commission of the group of Lauderhill girls she recently took to Tallahassee, she noted the bill they lobbied for passed unanimously, and would soon be signed into law by the Governor; because of their lobbying efforts, all high schools and middle schools in the State of Florida would have the chance to place sanitary products in girls' bathrooms. She expressed pride in the girls who participated in the effort. Commissioner Dunn indicated May 8 was Teacher Appreciation Spa Day at Royal Palm Elementary; they partnered with Florida Academy for Hair and Beauty, with volunteers going to Royal Palm to do manicures and facials for the teachers. She was pleased to be able to pamper the teachers in this way. She mentioned the Lauderhill Health and Prosperity (LHPP) hosted a mixer and meeting at Florida Medical Center (FMC), thanking Mayor Thurston and Commissioner L. Martin for attending, along with the work by, and the presence of the City Manager and her staff; the meeting had good turnout, and productive dialog. It said a lot when some of the City administration's brightest minds sat around the table with residents and business owners to solve some of the challenges being faced. She mentioned in 2022 they did a Mommy Makeover collaboration with Lauderhill Shines companies; they elected to do the event again in 2023, so anyone who knew of single mothers and teachers serving the City of Lauderhill should apply to nominate them on the City website: Lauderhill.gov/mom; nominations would be accepted until May 19, 2023. In 2022, again partnering with the Florida Academy of Beauty, as well as Truly Rooted, a Lauderhill Shines business participant, they did hair, makeup, and nails, which they would do again, after which the ladies would be taken to Nailed It DIY Studio for a women's empowerment brunch and flowers, and a chance to make a project; the actual activities would take place at the end of May. She mentioned on Saturday, June 3, 2023, the First Annual Lauderhill Walk for Peace would take place, as June was Gun Violence Awareness Month; the event would begin at the Lauderhill Police Department, and march to City Hall, where a press conference would be held, after which activities would move into a resource fair. At the Resource Fair would be community partners offering such services as: healthcare screenings, mental health resources, rental assistance, etc., and there would be a raffle that a Lauderhill resident present at the event, and who visited some of the booths, could win $1,500.00 towards rent or mortgage, or $500.00 toward their water bill. This was being done in collaboration with the Health Foundation of South Florida, one of the current, primary investors in LHPP, Simply Healthcare Humana, and Banyan Health Systems.

Vice Mayor S. Martin highlighted a community barbeque held at the West Ken Lark Park the past weekend; the event was attended by over 150 people; Ms. Cooper and her team did an awesome job, as did the City's Parks & Recreation Department staff. Residents, etc. seemed to have a great time.

City Manager Giles-Smith wished everyone Happy Mother's Day.

Mayor Thurston echoed wishes of a Happy Mother's Day to all the mothers in the Lauderhill community.
